I am the quintessential Aussie Girl who loves the beach. Combining my love of the water and being outside, I started Nippers (Jnr Lifesaving) from the age of 5. Now I am 12 and still love being out in the ocean. It is such a great sport - not only do you learn about the ocean and reading rips, but you learn the fundamentals of first aid. I have made some great friendships through Nippers.

I have competed in many competitions. I love competing. You meet some great inspirational people. I love the internal challenge to complete the course even when you are so tired and the feeling of accomplishment when you cross the finish line.

My goal is to continue through the Nipper program and become a Surf Lifesaver. My dream is to be a role model for young girls and become a Nipper coach. Learning and knowing about the surf is invaluable and I want to pass my knowledge on.

I want young people to get outdoors and enjoy this beautiful world that we live in.

My name is João Pedro Bianchi Garcia and since I was 3 years old, I have on my mind that I would be an professional soccer player in the future. I had some kind of connection with the soccer ball, I use to take the ball to shower, to do my home work, and even... to the bathroom.

It's all started to get more serious in some b-day soccer game, when some instructors went to my parents and asked; "does your son play soccer in some school already? He got skills!!"After that
