My name is Christopher Garner Jr. and I am 10 years old. I been loving the game of football since the age of 2 years old. I can remember when I was like 5 sitting on the couch watching NFL games and being so into it. I remember asking my parents can I play football and they would always say NO son you too little. When I turned 8 I begged my mom to please let me play football and she finally gave in and signed me up. This was the happiest time of my life because I had been wanting to play for so long and now I was getting my chance. My first year of playing it was me and my bro Chung that scored all the touchdowns for the team. I love to hear the crowd saying GO C.J GO! That pumps me up to go even harder. Went into my second year of playing football and we decided to join a select team called Cypress Elite Sports. Me and my 10U brothers went undefeated and won the championship as a first year organization! This was my best season thus far and I only plan to get more better. My dreams is to become one of the biggest wide receivers. My goal is to make it to the NFL. With hard-work, dedication and remaining humble I plan to do just that. I just want to make my family proud and pour back into them what they poured into me. In the words of the great Deion Sanders you either gone get elevated or terminated! My goal in life is to continue to put God first, elevate and perfect my craft. My only challenge is fighting to become a better me. I am the Future! Just remember the name Garner Jr because I will be on the big screen one day.
