My name is Cameron Nagorski. I play short stop and pitcher for my travel team through WRYSA. I started my baseball journey when I joined tee ball at 6yrs old, but I had a ball and bat in my hands since I could hold them. My inspiration is my dad Jesse. Dad was ALWAYS practicing, playing catch and being my "personal pitching machine". My dad passed away in September 2024, and now I play baseball in honor of him. My biggest goal is to make it to the pros, just like my dad and I talked about and planned. My team and I have won many travel tournaments and I personally have been named team MVP. I live and breath baseball and am always trying to improve my games.

My name is Conner Nagorski. I've been playing baseball since I was big enough to walk. I love baseball and my favorite position is pitcher. My dad Jesse was my biggest fan of all time. He passed away in 2024 and I'm determined to make it to the pros in honor of him. He taught me everything I know about baseball and is my idol.

Mariah Rocha

My name is Mariah Rocha. I am a young, deeply dedicated street racing athlete from Brazil. With immense focus, determination, and a true passion for running, I give my absolute best in every single training session and competition. Running has taught me the value of hard work, discipline, and character. Since I was a toddler, I accompanied my parents to amateur volleyball and soccer matches. Whenever they won a medal, they would playfully place it around my neck. At just 3 years old, I looked at my mother and made a definitive statement: I wanted to win a medal of my own. I was always highly active and loved school sports, but I wasn't part of any external athletic program yet. Driven by my spark, my mother began researching sports activities for 3-year-olds in São José dos Pinhais, Brazil, where we live. After spotting a social media post about a local kids' running event, she registered me for an event at a shopping mall in the nearby city of Curitiba, which offered trophies for the top three finishers. We practiced together in our home's parking lot. On race day, to everyone's amazement, I took 1st place with a massive lead. Though I comically confessed I was "too tired" right after crossing the finish line, as soon as I learned the next race was a week away, my eyes lit up and I said yes. In my very second race, competing against older girls aged 4 and 5, I claimed 2nd place. I was hooked. I began consistently making podiums, eventually joining monthly events organized by "Amigos da Corrida" in Curitiba. At nearly 5 years old, showing maturity far beyond my age, I decided I wanted real training to prepare for the upcoming 5-6 age category. The CR Running team opened its doors to me, and my official athletic development began. Today, at 8 years old, I train with CR Runners and proudly integrate the official São José dos Pinhais city team. I have expanded my talents into Triathlon, though street racing remains my ultimate passion. I train every single day with relentless dedication, focus, and a competitive mindset that captures everyone's attention on the track. Outside of sports, I am a joyful, energetic, and playful child. Looking ahead, my eyes are set on the highest stage possible: I boldly state that I will compete in the Olympic Games one day, waving the Brazilian flag, and break an Olympic record. I am a true champion in the making, proving that no dream is too big when fueled by passion and hard work.

As a newer model, I am still building my experience. One of my proudest achievements is completing a photoshoot with Studio 1 through Models USA. I look forward to growing with the team and turning future opportunities into even greater accomplishments.

My goal is to become a successful model and influencer who inspires others through authenticity, professionalism, and purpose. I strive to make a positive impact, lead by example, and continuously grow into the best version of myself while using my platform to create meaningful change.
