Ahmarria Marie

My name is Ahmarria Marie, I have been modeling for 5 years and aspire to continue to grow within the industry. Growing up my mother would dress me up and have me pose in the backyard while she took photos of me on her camera. We would watch Americas next top model together, and when I got a call from a Disney casting director for an interview in Boston my mom thought it was a scam and didn't allow me to go. I cried for weeks and felt like my dreams were crushed. Then puberty hit and I was very insecure about my body as most young ladies going through puberty are. Moving to Florida at 17 years old is what helped me get out of my comfort zone, build up my confidence and pursue modeling on a more serious note. Getting legitimate bookings while working full time and school full-time was tough at first which made me want to quit at times but pushing through that was the best decision. Ive been in two fashion shows for 3 different designers, Ive acted in an independent movie, i've gained experience through promotional and marketing work and am signed with a few modeling/promotional agencies. The joy and self confidence I gain from modeling is unmatched, learning how to love every inch of my body while encouraging others to do the same has been a blessing. I appreciate all of the support I've gotten throughout my modeling journey, on my worst days the support is what gets me through. My goal is to continue perfecting my craft as a model in order to make my dream a full-time reality.

Brandi
Cook

Brandi is a star with an aura so bright that even the sun reflects off of her! She is a beautiful model that does runway and enjoys the arts. You can see her shinning on the beach or on stage and her favorite art events to be in are body painting. Brandi is a joy to work with and has an amazing sense of humor. She lifts the energy of a space with just a smirk or a smile. Brandi is intelligent and quick witted, with multiple degrees under her belt. She loves to share knowledge and experiences with everyone she meets.

Brandi has many performance skills that she would like to share and entertain with and is always looking for avenues that allow her to stimulate other's senses. She was raised doing beauty pageants with the talents of: baton twirling, tap dance, ballet dance, gymnastics, playing the piano and many other instruments, singing, horseback riding and acting. As an adult making time for those activities and gaining performance opportunity has been difficult but that does not stop Brandi. Brandi has gained the skills of; twirling fire with her double batons and palm fire toys, twirling LED buugeng/s-staff and has practiced her techniques in trick horseback riding. She is interested in gaining aerial art motion upon silks and rings, as well as acrobatic yoga.

Brandi welcomes new friends and all of the support in making her name a brand in the arts of body modeling and performance.

My main goal is to become a successful model. At first it was challenging to build connections with the right people because there is a lot of fraudulent modeling agencies. I have always been interested in fashion, so I would love to open my own boutique, while carrying my own clothing lines.

My biggest achievement has been losing eighty pounds! I have always aspired to be a model. After a sports injury and depression taking it's toll I gained a lot of weight. I decided one day that it was time to lose the weight and fulfill my dreams of modeling! My dream is to be in as many magazines as I can, and to get the opportunity to work with many amazing photographers worldwide!

Jessica Jane Mallais

Born and raised in British Columbia Canada since 1999, Jessica Jane is a Canadian Youtuber and Freelance Model. Beautiful Inside and out- and if smoking weed was a personality trait, she would have it. Here is what she has to say; I dream of one day being able to create something that outlives my lifetime and makes an impact. By 2025 I hope to be successful in my career, and recognized for what I do. Something I am proud of is how strong the human body is, woman in particular. I gave birth outdoors in my own front yard, catching my baby with my own hands without intervention or medication. Doing so only made me feel more powerful! I have had to face hardships too such as harassment, jealousy and judgement from society, I never had many friends growing up so I got switched to an alternative school eventually, I still have trouble making friends. I would like to remind anyone reading this, that you will find your place. & Everything will fall together.

I am 32 years old and from New Jersey. I have a cat named Sally that I take care of. I am also a waitress and have always wanted to model. I enjoy taking photos of myself hoping to meet with more models. The challenges I have would be my job since I am always working but I do love people because I have a friendly personality. I have many goals but I am very happy that I get many compliments at my job since everyone appreciates my hospitality.

Ever since I was a little girl, I had always dreamed of growing up to be a supermodel, oneday walking the runway just like the ones I admired most; {on tv, course}-the Victoria's Secret Angels! What started out as play in front of a mirror or walking down my hall "catwalk", eventually turned into a genuine pursuit as I became a teenager. After years of compliments on my beautiful aesthetic coming from friends, family, and even strangers- all randomly stopping to tell me I should start modeling, I finally agreed and went on at 14 years old to check out some modeling talent recruiters/schools. And just as soon as I was ready to get started, it was over just as quickly due to outrageous costs.

Fast forward 10-15 years, Life happened and {seemingly} crushed my aspirations at the time; I was over my head working on my bachelors degree in nursing as well as raising a child as a single mom. But after graduating college, things finally began to settle down as I went on to continue work managing a psychiatry practice; a job that, up until recently, after 15 years I had eventually grown to hate it. I needed a change. A big one! And it was that very moment I knew, at 31 years old, it was now or never! So I took a risk and quit my job, to pursue modeling full-time. I knew that I needed to learn a WHOLE LOT, in a very short amount of time, if I were going to be able to make the most of getting a very late start. Since starting this new journey, I've set many ambitious goals right off the bat, and it didn't take very long before I was smashing them! About six months into shooting, I had already been published in International Model Magazine. Twice now, earning the cover spot in their April 2021 issue! I have also since smashed my biggest goal so far; getting cast and walking my very first runway for HiTech Moda and Orlando Swim week in July 2021! That feeling, being on the runway was the most exhilarating experience of my life! It's inspired me to delve into all the different styles of modeling, with a newfound interest in high fashion and haute couture. No I've only been modeling for about two or three years now, I feel that I've explored just about all the different niches and have developed a level of proficiency in most, if not all of them! My favorite will always be runway, although some fashion shows can be a little difficult to get cast for, being so heavily tattooed. But if I had to pick a second favorite, I really love shooting fine art and/or boudoir; it's such a powerful style of shooting that really brings out beautiful, sensual emotion, And it's so very empowering, all at the same time!

My goal for 2022 is to get signed by a few boutique agencies around here in Orlando. I'm already represented by a mother agency called Modelscout, but. To reach my truest potential, I really need to put myself out there. And now that my portfolio is finally just about complete I feel I'm ready to take it to the next level. Also will be trying Miami & New York, hopeful to get signed by one or more of the big names in the industry! I feel and believe strongly in my look, despite being a little older than others. My exotic look paired with good, youthful-genetics will be the key to finding success in this industry; achieving my modeling goals and dreams that will, in the end, have been SO worth the risk of quitting my dayjob for something new that pushes my creative boundaries and makes

my heart so so very happy ♡
