Gosh, where do i begin. I first modeled at 4 years old my first time for a magazine for my county. Ever since then i felt happiest and most confident in front of a camera. My dream from then was when i grew older, i was gonna pick this up and try to make that little 4 year old girls lifelong dreams come true of being a published model signed one day with an agency. The challenges i've faced these past 7 years have been the hardest yet. I've dealt with depression, anxiety, and dark dark times. When i started shooting with photographers recently, all of that has tremendously decreased. I feel I can be myself in front of a camera at my happiest, i feel confident and more myself than i ever have. It's truly my happy place when i'm shooting, and following my dreams to make that little me happy.

Ever since I was a little girl, I had always dreamed of growing up to be a supermodel, oneday walking the runway just like the ones I admired most; {on tv, course}-the Victoria's Secret Angels! What started out as play in front of a mirror or walking down my hall "catwalk", eventually turned into a genuine pursuit as I became a teenager. After years of compliments on my beautiful aesthetic coming from friends, family, and even strangers- all randomly stopping to tell me I should start modeling, I finally agreed and went on at 14 years old to check out some modeling talent recruiters/schools. And just as soon as I was ready to get started, it was over just as quickly due to outrageous costs.

Fast forward 10-15 years, Life happened and {seemingly} crushed my aspirations at the time; I was over my head working on my bachelors degree in nursing as well as raising a child as a single mom. But after graduating college, things finally began to settle down as I went on to continue work managing a psychiatry practice; a job that, up until recently, after 15 years I had eventually grown to hate it. I needed a change. A big one! And it was that very moment I knew, at 31 years old, it was now or never! So I took a risk and quit my job, to pursue modeling full-time. I knew that I needed to learn a WHOLE LOT, in a very short amount of time, if I were going to be able to make the most of getting a very late start. Since starting this new journey, I've set many ambitious goals right off the bat, and it didn't take very long before I was smashing them! About six months into shooting, I had already been published in International Model Magazine. Twice now, earning the cover spot in their April 2021 issue! I have also since smashed my biggest goal so far; getting cast and walking my very first runway for HiTech Moda and Orlando Swim week in July 2021! That feeling, being on the runway was the most exhilarating experience of my life! It's inspired me to delve into all the different styles of modeling, with a newfound interest in high fashion and haute couture. No I've only been modeling for about two or three years now, I feel that I've explored just about all the different niches and have developed a level of proficiency in most, if not all of them! My favorite will always be runway, although some fashion shows can be a little difficult to get cast for, being so heavily tattooed. But if I had to pick a second favorite, I really love shooting fine art and/or boudoir; it's such a powerful style of shooting that really brings out beautiful, sensual emotion, And it's so very empowering, all at the same time!

My goal for 2022 is to get signed by a few boutique agencies around here in Orlando. I'm already represented by a mother agency called Modelscout, but. To reach my truest potential, I really need to put myself out there. And now that my portfolio is finally just about complete I feel I'm ready to take it to the next level. Also will be trying Miami & New York, hopeful to get signed by one or more of the big names in the industry! I feel and believe strongly in my look, despite being a little older than others. My exotic look paired with good, youthful-genetics will be the key to finding success in this industry; achieving my modeling goals and dreams that will, in the end, have been SO worth the risk of quitting my dayjob for something new that pushes my creative boundaries and makes my heart so so very happy 🍷
