My journey as a model has been one of fierce dedication and steady growth. From South Florida, I've built a name in the fashion and swimwear space through consistent hard work, evolving from a salon professional into a full-time model featured over 20 times in Maxim—including multiple international editions and two official covers.

Becoming a Maxim Covergirl wasn't just a milestone—it proved that believing in yourself and staying aligned with your vision pays off. I've modeled for top-tier brands and hosted events like Babes in Toyland Swim Week in Las Vegas, all while staying grounded in what I love: empowering femininity, beauty, and creativity.

Like many in this industry, I've faced challenges—being underestimated, balancing financial risk, and carving out space where I don't always "fit the mold." But I've turned every "no" into momentum and every challenge into fuel. My goal is to continue building a career that reflects passion, sensuality, and artistic impact—while helping other women break into the space, too.

I have lots of dream roles , and I have lots of different dream jobs in modeling and acting that I would love to achieve one day it would be too long to list everything if I said every single dream job I want because there is a lot every day I get inspired to do every day I come up with new dreams, and I get inspired all the time i'm always working on, becoming my best self. I can be I always try to give 110% on every job and opportunity I get. And and to answer y'all's question about challenges, . I faced a lot of challenges but I don't like the talk about the negative. Marvelous Major the future that I can make a movie about my life and my story I do think it's an interesting story to tell and my background and everything I've faced in life one day and talk about all that in depth, and

I would love to help other people who go through similar situations and bring a light to situations like that but I try to always focus on the positive. I don't let negative people things in enter tact with my career or me it really at the end of the day You don't need that type of energy in your life, so it really don't matter what those type of people think or feel about you because my dignity is in God and that's the only opinion I really care about because at the end of the day that's who really matters, and I learnt a lot on the challenges I will say, and I'm grateful in a way for everything even the challenges because it made me who I am as a person and it made me make amazing choices, and taught me a lot of things and help me grow. And made me become wise in a lot of ways but I hope to share the wisdom and knowledge and advice to upcoming models who has been through similar experiences., and anybody who wants to hear my story maybe one day in the future when I make a movie about my life or TV show or a book, so that's what I'll talk about the challenges in a movie that's what I plan on doing one day it's been a dream of mine for a while to create a movie and talk about it cause I think it would be an interesting story to tell

I have a long way to go, in my career but I'm proud of how far I've come in my journey. and at the end of the day i'm happy and living my dream s and that's what really matters so it don't matter what some bully says and that's the advice I give on that I think we should always have people who lift us up in our life and support us and cut out all the toxic and haters and negative people out of your life because you can replace it with so much better. If one won't another one will God gotta always bring better There's people out there that will support you uplift you and be happy for you and want the best for you in life and want you to have your dreams and accomplish your dreams and be happy and that's the type of people you want in your life that's the advice I give also if one won't another one will I promise you that in your career or life God always brings the best and then you look back I promise you're be so grateful for the better things in life and you're grateful you didn't let the negative affect you in the end nothings better than achieving your dreams and looking back and realizing how far you've come it's one of those moments you can't describe so don't hold on to negative or toxic behaviors of other people you don't need people like that in your life because God will always replace and give you so much better then negativity and bully's and Gods gives us so much better God bring the right people in your life at the right time and it'll work out for the best and that's how I see it. We only live once, so I think we should learn for lessons. And grow as a person and don't repeat the same mistakes. And that's how I look at it. Another advice I love to give is I always give God credit for everything because he's the one that

2025 has made me wait patiently after graduating from Michigan State University with a Bachelors of Arts in Media and Info; I worked really hard and diligently over couple years to keep up with paying off my loans and finding Career jobs. Although it has not been easy I am establishing myself including building my resume, which is pretty impressive. Now I am a Radio Broadcaster in Michigan Power 96.5, Videographer Editor with Anchor Creative Photographer and a teacher. Modeling has opened a lot of doors for New York Fashion Week, Detroit Gina T and Will Phelps Fashion Show, Harley Davidson-Shows Detroit and more. I am grateful to how so many young girls cheer me on and say how beautiful I am, inspiring me to represent beauty and brains for all young girls.
