My dream is to be successful at whatever it is I do in life and to pursue whatever sets my soul on fire. I want to encourage and show others anything is possible if you put your mind to it. My goal is to keep being successful in my construction job and also be a successful model as well. My achievements in life are, I have become a certified welder, I have been nominated for women building success in the trades, I have accomplished 436 hours of training in two months and three weeks and was only required 288. I have been hand-picked by the Vice President of the company to do lean projects for the company, I have also received a Recognition award for being a partner with production and working together on quality issues.

Some challenges I have had in life are always putting my time and effort into everyone else but myself, but I have started to learn that I need to be able to put myself first in order to love myself and be happy while I still care for my loved ones. Some times we forget to take a step back from life and do things for ourselves as we are always so busy taking care of others. A lot of times I fail to ask for help as I'm too stubborn and would rather do it on my own so I'm learning that sometimes it's ok to ask for help when needed, you don't always have to struggle alone.

Hi! My friends call me Miss Pink Tink. My nickname comes from the color and singer Pink and my Disney hero Tinkerbell. I like to live life to the fullest no matter how modified... Just keep swimming! I feel my music and play with passion. I have cold hands but a warm heart and I love hard. I love to travel to see new places and recently traveled through the Prarie lands. I enjoy supporting local music, racing go-karts, boxing, martial arts, the beach, car shows and the Pontiac Firebird is my favorite. I'm short and sassy and a little smart assey but most of all I just love being me and enjoying my new pin-up adventure. I have met some beautiful ladies that have supported and have embraced me and all of my curves.. after recently losing 158 pounds and now I look forward to going shopping! BRING ON THE LIPSTICKS AND LASHES! I am looking forward to meeting more of you Ladies and Gents. Squishy hugs, Miss Pink Tink ❤️

I have always struggled with my body image, it's part of the reason I got into modelling. Modelling has helped me feel so much more comfortable in my skin, I want to help others feel more
