My Name is Harley Quinn Sims, and I am 8 years old. I have been figure skating since I was 3 years old at Hollydell ice rink with my Coaches Maggie, Michelle, and Amy. I have loved skating since I watched the world championships with my mom when I was 2. That Christmas my uncle Ryan got me a gift card for Hollydell, and I meet Coach Amy who asked if I would like to take classes, and I have been skating ever since. My dreams are to one day compete in the world championships and the Grand Prix Finals and I know with hard work and the help of my Coaches I hope to get there one day. My goals are to get better at my jumps and spins. I hope to master a sit spin and camel spin soon. My goal for jumps is to learn and master an axel and a double axel. I have always wanted to learn how to do an axel. My achievements that I am most proud of is that I have mastered my scratch spin. It took me a long time, but I did it with hard work and not giving up. I am also very proud of my achievement of my lunges. I practiced really hard to get down as far as I do, and I love doing them. The challenges I have faced as I have learned skating is when I first started skating it was very hard for me to learn to go backwards. I had the hardest time learning to do a backwards swizzle, because my legs were so tiny and not strong enough yet. Another challenge I had to overcome was backwards crossovers. Just like my backwards swizzles I had a hard time with them in the beginning as well. Another challenge that I am proud i overcame was one-foot turns. They were so hard for me in the beginning that I didn't even want to do them, but Coach Maggie worked with me very hard and I got it. My successes I am most proud of is I did my first competitions this year. My first one was at the Skating Club of Iceland Spring Open. I toke First Place in Basic 4 group B. I was so proud of myself. I didn't even expect to place, because it was my first one. My second competition was the 2023 Philadelphia Area Championships. I placed Forth in basic 4 group A. I am still very proud of myself it was a hard competition, and it was only my second one and I still placed. I am very happy and proud of myself for all I have done and learned from ice skating. I am so happy and thankful for my amazing coaches and awesome friends I have made in my club while skating. They are all so supportive and we are always there for each other. They are like family to me. I think ice skating is the best thing ever, and everyone should give it a try, because you learn so much from it. I know I have learned to be confident in myself and never give up, and to always get up and try again.

Well I've always had the dream of being a big time actor/movie star. I have always been a big nerd when it came to movies. I set the goal to set foot on one of my favorite shows black ink crew Chicago. When I accomplished that goal a lot changed for me and opened up doors for me faster as a model. My modeling career took off a lot faster than my acting career. I love them both with a passion. Yet, my biggest goals consist of being a successful actor, model, tattoo artist and entrepreneur. After a few years of hard work, dedication, commitment and more. I've achieved more than I ever thought possible. I've filmed with over a dozen tv shows and movies. I've been published in a various of magazines and posted on designers websites. I have many amazing accomplishments and story's of success and my tribulations in my struggle to achieve these goals.

A lot of the challenges I faced as a actor, model, tattoo artist and entrepreneur or just achieving my goals. I'm a tattooed model and being that I have many tattoos limits my ability to be booked for many good opportunities in modeling. I got shot 11/20/2020 which ruined a lot of my big opportunities at the time because my thigh/femur bone was broken in the damage done from the GSW. After a year of healing and bed rest. It did not stop me from getting back to my goals. It's a challenge being a black man trying to accomplish good things in life for himself. I had the blessings to show that I'm a very talented and creative artists who loves what he does and will work hard to achieve the next level. It's hard to stay positive when everyone says no, maybe next time. Don't let them discourage you from chasing your dream. You just need 1 yes to change the path of things. You will have to survive life and it's obstacles to be successful in life.

My name is Virginia Santucci, and I am a Professional Dancer in New York City. I was born and raised in Florence, Italy which is where I not only learned how to dance, but discovered my passion for it. At 19 I moved to Paris to study at the Institut Formation Professionnelle Rick Odums. There I honed my skills working under both the Jeune Ballet Jazz and Jeune Ballet Modern dance companies. I lived in Paris for a year until I had the honor to be accepted into The Ailey School of New York City, of which I graduated in 2022.

So at 20 years old I bought a one way ticket to New York and have been in the city ever since! It's been such an inspiring and amazing experience for me. Professionally and artistically there's no place like it. I'm surrounded by incredible dancers and artists all the time and its always pushing me to get better and better. But personally I also feel that I've found my place, and that's why I continue to call it my home.

During my life I faced some obstacles, as we all do. The doubts, rejections, all the sacrifices made to pursue this career. All of that has definitely been there for me. But personally, the more defining obstacles are closer to home. Moving to a new country, twice, in the way I did was very challenging for me. And it still is in some ways. In France I was pretty close to Italy, but now living in America I'm much farther away. It's been really difficult at times, especially in the beginning. There was a language and culture barrier that I had to overcome. I had to find a community on my own. And I also just had to find myself, and who I was in this new, big, competitive place. It forced me to not just find strength within myself, but build it from the ground up. I've come a long way though, I recognize that every day. And I would never change this with anything else!

Being able to live in the same dream you dreamt when you were little is pretty priceless. And I am very proud and grateful to call this my life.
