I am changing my look and my exposure. I have mainly modeled in the LoRider car industry and was looking to branch out into swimsuit and boudoir modeling. So my goal is to gain a following in magazines other than car model magazines.

I started 8 years ago tattooing in My room. At that time I used to ask myself. What am I doing?

But finally by studying, looking and asking questions, I was able to learn and improve. A few years after quitting university to dedicate completely to tattooing, I started working in studios, always trying to learn and find my way.

At the beginning of my career I worked a lot in New School style, and for a long time I refused every tattoo that was black and gray, and who would say that now I specialize in Blackwork, Geometries and Blackouts with Neo tribal.

I think I haven't defined my style yet, but it's a mixture of different techniques that work for me and make me happy. I currently work at Badfish Tattoo Studio, in Antofagasta city with a team of very good colleagues and friends. I appreciate everything that the tattoos have given to me, the friends, the opportunity to work in other countries and all the experiences that I have lived.

Finally, I just want to thank everyone who has been by my side throughout this journey, to the people that trust my work and support me.
