I am a child of God. I am audacious and vibrant. I always drum against the beat and allow God to order my steps. God has blessed me tremendously.

God has placed me in rooms with heavy hitters and closer to my dreams. I understand the word that says I can do ALL things through Christ who strengthens me. God has landed me on a billboard in Miami, to covers on magazines. It has come with its challenges as well but I count it all joy. Because if it was easy- what would praise God for.

God has definitely allowed me to beat cancer twice.

And now through Gods grace I am proud to making a debut in acting. Currently involved in two films. I am very excited and elated to be apartment.

My goals are pretty simple and straight forward. Just to be the best me that I can be! Over the years my appearance has changed. It took me awhile but I love my body! Obsessed with the new additions. Learning to love my curves. We are in the like phase at the moment! Being in Bikini Magazine again but with the newer version of me is just a dream come true!

I have a few achievements. Started my own business making jewelry for kids. Moved a few times while keeping life and friendships aligned and most of all raising my beautiful children.

My main challenge is just accepting me for me and not comparing myself to the old me or anyone around me. I make all these excuses for not working out. One day I'll get there and feel much better. Until then I just push forward and always smile! Positivity can overcome all obstacles of life!

BIO: I am Miss Malibu Nikki, I am an internationally and locally published model who enjoys inspiring others to love themselves and always remember you are beautiful and amazing! I enjoy modeling, photography, vintage clothing, and macaw parrots. I have gotten quite good at getting myself published using my tripod. My new mission in life is Hyperparathyroidism awareness, as it is an illness that I have had that went undiagnosed for 7 years, it is a tumor on the Parathyroid and creates havoc on your body, destroying bones and other organs in the body. It is an awful disease, so please get Calcium levels checked if it is high and your Vitamin D level is low, you need to have a Parathyroid Hormone test done. Sadly disease gets missed and people do not find out for years and years. The cure is surgery to remove the gland with the tumor which I will be having done if all works out very soon.

I live to honor my late Father Ralph through his beloved 1970 Malibu Chevelle Convertible that was custom ordered in 1970 and is unlike any other out there! I promised my Father that I would keep his memory alive and show his amazing Muscle Car every moment that I could. I started winning trophies for him from his car as I grieved the loss of him, until at one very special event I won a Best Female Entrant Trophy, that is the day his car became a Daddy Daughter Car. My Father used his Military Pay to purchase this beautiful car right after he had served his time and was honorably discharged. I have kept it exactly stock the way he had ordered it.

Growing up with this car, I hold vivid memories of vacations, parades and seeing fireworks in this car. I was just 5 1/2 months old when the first photo was taken of me with his car in the background. I have wanted this car since I was 12 years old and I caught different lighting that changed the color from purple to maroon. The actual color is Black Cherry which makes it so mesmerizing. I am very fortunate to have had the amazing Father that I did. I miss him every day, but knowing that he is around me and knows that I honor him every chance that I can get makes me happy. Family owned cars passed down from generation to generation are super special and hold meaning like no other car can ever have. I dedicate this article to my late Father Ralph.

Building a strong foundation for future success is important to me. I am a mother, a grandmother and a foster parent who works full time in healthcare. My goals are always first to my family, making sure I am well for them. This includes making sure my health and fitness, my job growth and stability are in check and my mental. My goals for life are always to be more organized, prepared and to obtain the foundation for the future of my family. My work goals are to always be open to education and learning, possibly even going back to school for fitness and nutrition. I love science and want to broaden my horizons. I've achieved a lot this past year as I reflect, including taking care of and reuniting with family, a steady 3 ½ years at my job as a Patient Care Liaison, taking my supplements and trying to eat better, exercise more. In life my biggest achievement was winning first in my class in bodybuilding and I will make that a goal in the years to come.
